A Royal Family Party.

London, Aug., 8.—The coming gamering of members of the royal families of Zurope ar Copennagen in September will be a noteworthy one. Among the guests who will then visit the sing of Denmark will be his son, the ring of Greece: his daughter, the princess of Wates, who will be accompanied by the Prince of Wales and their daughter Princess Victoria and Princess Maude of Wales and the czar, who will be accompanied by the czarina, who is also a daughter of the king of Denmark. It will thus be seen that there will be quite a family party to enjoy the hospitality of the ruler of Denmark.

Sunday evening in the First Baptist church, Dr. Richard Montague preached the last of near the doors taroughout the discourse.

THE SERMOS.

They received the word with all readiness of mind, examining the Scriptures daily, whether these things were so. Acts arii, 11. Awcommon consent the Bible is a remarkhierium of literature, as a volume of moral principles and precepts, as a power-in quickeding the spiritual nature it is unique. But its claims are also very gamarkable. It puts besit forth as a divine book speaking wifer the autaority of Goo. Moses speaks and egislates in behalf of God. David sings "inthe Spirit." Prophets claim to declare the will and word of that. Jesus comes down from therein to speak the words of him tant sent $10. To the eleven he promises a spicial inspiration of the Holy Spirit, oaland the into all the trut a concerning His mission, and empowering them correctly and adequately to make known the things concorning Plimself. Peter and John and Paul thus speak in a time of authority, putting themselves on a plane similar to those noly then who preceded them, who "spake from God being moved by the Euly Chost," and whose writings being given through divine inspiration are "able to make wise untoalvation," and are "profitable for fear day, for reproof, for correction, for instruction which is in regateousness." Thus the man of God, who studies and follows these sagred Semptures will be "complete, being furnished. thoroughly unto every good work?" It is fort to patient, devout and obelieft examin-, attornoof these Scriptures, in their Old Testas, out form—all that then had been given that these Bereau disciples, mentioned in four text are commended. They tested all tion Paul and Silas and to say concerning the Christ by the revelation they had in their Scriptures, and, when satisfied that the new thessage was carmonious with the old, they spot the word with all rendiness of di. I hollow that the claims which these scripthree make for themselves is true, being veriff d by internal evidence, by unparalle co. chical and spiritual power, by their historic effect on the pearl and consciences by my personal experience of their trath, and above all by the wondrous Units whom they present. I accept with all my heart the proposetion, that the Bible is the sufficient and final source of knowledge concerning God's will aid way for man. Other sources of knowledge there surely are.-reason, nature, history, conscience, the churc's. But our chici source of knowledge, our fignt source of appeal, in matters of morals and religion. is in the record of God's supernatural revelution of Himself which we find in the Bible. For every man who wishes to co God's willthe first, the supreme, the decisive question should be: What do we fine revealed in the inspired word of God.

... Looking, then, to the Bible, we find ciency made snown the way of salvation from sin. God has entered into humar, life, in the person of his essentially equal son. Carist has shown to the full what the Enfher is. Te has made plain what the sons of men may be. He has removed every obstacle to the free exercise of parcion and renewal. He has introduced the mightiest motives conceivaple, to repentance and fait i. Thus for at to whom he is preached Christ becomes the test, the judge of condition and desting. According as we receive or refuse aim we array ourselves for or against the Father, we are in the way of eternal life, or the way of eternal death. Jesus Christ is the only Savior, the universal Bedeemer, the civine Teacher, the truest Friend, the righting Master of men. ### By Conan Doyle,

I had eal ed upon my friend Mr. Sheroca Ito mes, one cay in the autumn of last year, and found him in deep conversation with a very stout, foric-laced, ederly gendeman, with fery red lair. With an abology for my intrusion, I was about to withdraw, waen liolmes pulled me abruptly into the room, and closed tae coor behind me.

"You could not possibly have come at a better time, my cear Watson," be said cordially. This gentleman, Nr. Wilson, has been my partner and helper -in many of my successful cases, and E have no constitut he will be of the utmost use to me in yours a so."

The stout gentleman half rose from his chair, and gave a boo of greeting with a quick little questioning glance from his sma. , far-encircled eyes.

"Try the settee," said Rolmes, relapsing into his arm chair, and putting hisringer-tips together, as was his custom waen in judicia moods. " know, my dear Watson, that you share my love in a. that is bizarre and outside the conventions and numerum roatine of everyday life. Now, Mr. Jabez Wilson here has non good enough to eal apon me tais morning, and to begin a narrative which promises to be one of the most singular which I have distended to for some time. Perhans, Mr. Wilson, you would, have the great kindness to recommence your narration. I ask you, not mere y because my friend Dr. Watson has not heard the opening part, puralso because the peculiar nature of the story makes me anxious to have every possible detail from your lips.

Die portry client purfed out his chest with an appearance of some little price, and put ec a cirty and wrinkled newspaper from the inside pocket of his great coat. Z die not gain very much, however, by my inspection. Our visitor bore every mark of being an average commonplace British tradesman, obese, bombous and slow. He wore rather baggy gray shephere's check trousers, a not over cleanblack frock coak, unbuttoned in the front, and a drab waistcoat, with a heavy prassy A per chain and a square pierced bit of metal dangling down as an ornament. A frayed too has and a facec brown overcoat with a wrinkled velvet co ar lay upon a chair beside him. A together, out as I would, there was nothing remarkable about the man save his hazing red head and the expression of extreme chagrin and discontent upon his features.

"Can you not find the advertisement Mr. Wilson," asked Holmes.

"Yes, I have got it now," he answered with his times, red finger planted half way cown the column. "Here it is, This is what began it all. You just read it for yourself, sir,"

I took the paper from him and read as
